ENVIRONMENTAL RESPONSIBILITY

In line with our vision to protect nature, we replace textiles (bed sheets and pillowcases) every other day in order to minimize water and detergent consumption. On our journey to conserve natural resources, we value the participation and support of our guests.

At FashionTV Luxe Resort, our Sustainability Committee, which convenes twice a year, is responsible for developing the hotel's sustainability strategies, objectives, and related policies, as well as ensuring their integration into all business processes. In addition, the committee oversees the coordination of sustainability initiatives, performance monitoring, and the identification of necessary training programs. Through these efforts, we aim to provide our guests with the highest level of service in accordance with the principles of sustainability.

The foundation of this system, which is managed and regularly updated by our Sustainability Committee, is based on our sustainability policies.

PLACES TO VISIT

Göynük Canyon

Göynük Canyon is an important natural formation located in the Kemer district of Antalya. Formed through geological processes, the canyon is notable for its rich vegetation and natural landscape. Today, Göynük Canyon is a protected area representing the natural heritage of the region.

Phaselis Ancient City

Phaselis Ancient City is located on a peninsula with three natural harbors within the borders of Kemer, Antalya. In antiquity, Phaselis was an important port city, and archaeological findings reveal its historical and cultural past. The city is considered one of the significant centers reflecting ancient life in the region.

Olympos Ancient City

Nestled within lush greenery, Olympos Ancient City offers a peaceful excursion for all. One of Antalya's remarkable historical sites, its name in Greek means "Great Mountain." Olympos was one of the most significant cities of the ancient Lycian civilization. In addition to its historical significance, its beach captivates visitors, making it a popular spot for both history enthusiasts and beach lovers.

Kaputaş Beach

Kaputaş Beach, one of the most famous beaches in Antalya, is a must-visit on any Antalya trip and is among the Mediterranean's most popular beaches. Nestled between steep cliffs, this small hidden cove is accessible via a stone staircase of 200 steps leading down from the main road.

Myra Ancient City

Located near Demre, Myra is an ancient city rich in historical ruins. Once the capital of Lycia, it is also known as the place where Saint Nicholas, the inspiration for Santa Claus, lived. The site has preserved several historical ruins, including a Greco-Roman theater, allowing visitors to connect with its storied past.

Old Town

Antalya's historic district, is home to charming old houses and is one of the city's most visited areas. As a top destination in Antalya, it offers a delightful spot to unwind in the evenings during your holiday. During milder weather, you can also explore it during the day, although summer heat may make daytime visits less comfortable. A single day is sufficient to discover Kaleiçi on a pleasant spring day. Wander through its streets, enjoy the local establishments, and embark on a journey through history. Almost every side street you explore leads to the sea. Located in the Muratpaşa district, Kaleiçi also showcases old Ottoman houses.
