Maalhos

Maalhos island, located in Baa Atoll within the UNESCO Biosphere Reserve, is a serene local island offering an authentic Maldivian experience. Just 35 minutes away via domestic flight, Maalhos is easily accessible while feeling worlds away from the crowds.

The island is known for its vibrant house reef, teeming with marine life and accessible directly from the beach, perfect for snorkellers and divers alike. It also lies in close proximity to Hanifaru Bay Marine Protected Area, one of the world's most renowned aggregation sites for manta rays during the southwest monsoon.

Surrounded by crystal-clear turquoise waters and powdery white beaches, Maalhos is covered in lush tropical vegetation and home to a tradition-rooted yet tourism-savvy community. Here, you'll find a rare balance between sustainable development and deep cultural heritage, making it a unique and enriching destination.

How to get here

Reaching Maalhos is easy, with several travel options available after your international flight to Velana International Airport (Malé). You can take a scheduled speedboat directly to Maalhos (approx. 2 hours), a domestic flight to Dharavandhoo (35 minutes) followed by a 15-minute boat ride, or arrive by seaplane to nearby resorts (30 minutes), with a short boat transfer to Maalhos to follow.

Transfers operate on set days/times, so please contact us in advance and we'll help you find the best option!
