The Nai Harn Phuket is the only Phuket hotel member of The Leading Hotels Of The World from 5 selected hotels in Thailand. Leading Hotels' distinct properties make up a collection of independent and uncommon luxury hotels throughout the world with more than 400 hotels in over 80 countries. (One of the signature cocktails at The Nai Harn)

Salim says “My unique cocktail, created in the early 90s when I was working at The Savoy, was called “Blushing Monarch” and won me the coveted title of Barman of the year. It was the overwhelming winner with the judges.

My inspiration in those days was Princess Diana, and when one of the judges asked me why I called it that, my answer was, “It was pink, it was elegant, it was blushing.”

Rawai Sea Gypsy Village and Market is the closest you can get to fresh seafood without getting wet yourself. Pick your own seafood treats and have them cooked at our favorite spot “Mook Manee Seafood.” It is hard to separate the Sea Gypsies and Rawai from each other; they settled in the area over 100 years ago and continue to trade on the oceanfront market just off the left side of Rawai Pier. Fresh seafood is brought in daily, mostly by the Sea Gypsies fishermen that live in the small village that surrounds the market.

Marine Lucchini and Thibault Spithakis, two young French entrepreneurs, have established a distillery on Phuket's east coast that produces top-grade white rum. This clear and pure liquor is manufactured in Phuket, using only 'best-of-crop' organically grown Thai sugarcane and centuries-old French distillation methods and equipment for startling high-standard results. It's worth mentioning that absolutely everything in the process is done by hand, and that includes cleaning, labelling, and filling the bottles! The good part of all this is that you can visit Chalong Bay Rum and have the whole process explained to you with a rum cocktail of your choice to try afterwards.

Soi Bangla can be roughly divided into 3 sections, each with its own particular atmosphere. The end of Soi Bangla, furthest from the beach and closest to Rat-U-Thit Road and Jungceylon Shopping Centre, is home to most of the biggest and best nightclubs in Phuket. Further west, you'll find the midsection where you will find most of the go-go bars along Bangla Road as well as many touts that would usually block your way.

The beach end of Bangla Road – starting from Soi Freedom – is the most easygoing part. The southern side of the road is lined almost exclusively with beer bars. Across the road are some of the area's most notable establishments. The beach end of the street is taken entirely by shops, selling suits, souvenirs and fast food.

Big Buddha, also known as Phra Puttamingmongkol Akenakkiri Buddha, is 25 meters across at the base. The whole body is constructed with reinforced concrete, layered with beautiful Burmese white jade marble that shines in the sun. This is one of the most important and revered landmarks on the island. The huge image sits on top of the Nakkerd Hills between Chalong and Kata and, at 45 meters tall, can be seen from as far away as Phuket Town and Karon Beach. It's one of the many landmarks can visit while on a tour of Phuket.

Ao Sane, a rocky beach with a short distance on the west from our resort, is one of the island's loveliest secrets. The snorkeling at Ao Sane beach is exemplary and it has enough trees lining its perimeters to provide shelter from the sun at all times of day, but there's ample sand space for sun lovers, too.

Ya Nui lies in the shadow of two of Phuket's loveliest viewpoints; Phrom Thep and the famous but nameless viewpoint featuring large white windmill/propeller power generators. It's a charming little cove, great for snorkeling, kayaking and fishing. The sand is beautifully soft.

Promthep Cape is Phuket's most south westerly point offering breathtaking sea views. There is no better place to watch the sunset, and the fact that the sun sets here last in Thailand makes the experience even more memorable.
